The Church: It is a changing'!

The Gospel remains constant, but the way that the Church interacts with an increasingly diverse world is making dramatic shifts.

"The church is focusing forward – on its need to engage, and on what it must be prepared for as a faithful witness to the Kingdom on earth," says author and professor, Dr. Kevin Mannoia.

Join Dr. Mannoia on CCN for a vision-expanding experience, as together we survey the cultural landscape of our 21st-century mission field!

Take a look at the specific characteristics that today's church leaders must have in order to embrace emerging realities and become catalysts for renewal and growth.

Explore new themes alive in the Church today:

- Centrality of the Kingdom of God.
- Unity in diversity.
- Christ's model of surrender/release vs. control/success.

Isn't it time for a little forward thinking?

Who Should Attend:

- Pastors and Ministry Leaders
- Elders and Board Members

Dr. Kevin Mannoia is Professor of Ministry and the Graduate and Faculty Chaplain at Azusa Pacific University. Formerly the President of the National Association of Evangelicals, Mannoia understands the Church on congregational, denominational, and national levels. His books include, Church Planting: The Next Generation and Church 2k – Leading Forward.
